By Peter Alden

Qatar Airways has issued a press release that pre-flight rapid Covid-19 tests will soon be available for its passengers. The airline, which is based in Qatar, has been working closely with the Ministry of Public Health to ensure the safety and health of all passengers and crew.

The airline has said that it has been working closely with the government and the Ministry of Public Health to ensure that all passengers and crew are tested before they travel. The rapid Covid-19 tests will be administered at the airport and will be completed within 10-15 minutes.

The airline has also announced that passengers will be required to wear face masks and follow other health and safety guidelines.

Qatar Biobank ensures genomics data security

By Joseph Varghese

Qatar Biobank, which collected Qatar's first genetic data sample from 205 volunteers earlier this year, has found a way to ensure that the data is safe and secure. The bank, which is part of Qatar’s National Health Research Institute, has partnered with the University of Oxford to develop a secure platform for storing and sharing the data.

The platform, which is based on the open-source software called DANN (Data Access and Navigation Network), has been designed to protect the privacy of the individuals whose data is being stored. It will also allow researchers to access the data for scientific purposes.

The bank has also partnered with the Qatar National Library to ensure that the data is available to the public.

Ashghal to complete revamp of sewage pumping stations by 2022 second quarter

The capacity of the sewage pumping stations will be increased by 2,900 cu m per day to be capable of pumping around 14,600 cu m per day instead of the current 4,510 cu m per day. The Al Khawajah pumping station will be completed with a new installation allowing around 4,000 cu m per day to be pumped instead of the current 3,500 cu m per day. The capacity of Al-Mansalou pumping station will be increased by approximately 2,200 cu m per day and pumping the sewage flows as per the existing pumping station's capacity will be greatly reduced.

The project is expected to be completed by the end of this year, allowing for the increase in the sewage pumping capacity to 14,000 cu m per day. The upgrade works at Al-Mansalou pumping station will include the installation of new equipment and new installations, improving the alarm and suppression systems, new instrumentation, among others. This is in addition to improving the existing systems, such as the secondary pumping station, the secondary pumping station, and reduce bad odours in the surrounding areas.

The New Al Mirdad and Al Khawajah pumping stations will undergo a dramatic increase in their ability to accommodate and pump the sewage flows as per the existing pumping stations’ control systems, including new telemetry systems, improved alarm and suppression systems, new instrumentation, among others. This is in addition to improved automation and control systems, including new instrumentation and control systems.

Call for determined efforts to reduce food wastage

Qatar National Vision 2030, which aims to increase self-sufficiency in food production, has played an important role in encouraging Qataris to adopt a healthy and balanced diet. The Ministry of Environment and Climate Protection has launched a campaign called “EcoMENA”, which focuses on the importance of reducing food waste and promoting sustainable practices.

In the past few years, the school has reversed the trend of our people being not healthy and being confined to their homes. This is due to the fact that the school has launched a campaign called “EcoMENA”, which focuses on the importance of reducing food waste and promoting sustainable practices.

EcoMENA estimates that half of all food produced is lost or wasted, which is equivalent to the amount of food that could feed three billion people.

Several Indian community members remembered the late Qatari-based Indian businessman and philanthropist C K Menon on October 3, 2020, marking his first death anniversary. Menon passed away on October 1, 2019.

Menon was one of the most prominent Indian businessmen in Qatar with several business interests. He was awarded one of the highest Indian civilian awards – Padma Shri – in 2009 as well as Pravasi Bhartiya Samman in 2012 for his humanitarian work. Menon was also a beacon of humanitarian activities, a philanthropist of individual and corporate earnings. He was also a benefactor of Global Service of Indian Community (GSIC) for his humanitarian work and staid closely with people in need, ranging from the homeless to the elderly and the physically disabled.

A deeply spiritual man, he humbly dedicated all his achievements to God. He firmly attributed his success to mastering high degree of honesty and deep dedication.

According to Girishkumar, Menon was well known for his philanthropic activities and the scale of his charity activities is unmatched, cutting across all sections of society. “In C K Menon was a beacon of humanitarian activities, a philanthropist of individual and corporate earnings. He was also a benefactor of Global Service of Indian Community (GSIC) for his humanitarian work and staid closely with people in need, ranging from the homeless to the elderly and the physically disabled. He was also a benefactor of the management committee members. In his heart and mind full of honesty, he carried all his life on one of the highest positions in the Middle East.”

The AGM approved the agenda to follow Gandhian principles and values which will solve all the problems of today and enable a peaceful world.

REPUBLICANS PUSH TO CONFIRM COURT PICK

Barrett confirmation

Democrats, led by Minority Leader Chuck Schumer, have vowed to block Judge Amy Coney Barrett’s confirmation, but Senate Republicans have vowed to proceed with the vote.

Barrett, who was nominated by President Donald Trump, was confirmed to the Supreme Court on October 26, 2020.

The confirmation came after a contentious battle over Barrett’s nomination, which was opposed by Democrats who argued that Trump should not have the power to fill a seat on the court in an election year.

Barrett is the first woman to be confirmed to the Supreme Court in 25 years and the third woman to serve on the court.

Merkel optimistic despite Brexit talks hurdles

German Chancellor Angela Merkel yesterday said that talks on Brexit are making progress, but that there are still “many issues” to resolve.

Merkel met with British Prime Minister Boris Johnson in Brussels yesterday to discuss the future of the EU-UK relationship.

Johnson and Merkel agreed to continue negotiations, but warned that there is still “a lot of work to do”.

Merkel also said that the UK must make “substantial concessions” to win over the EU.

Brexit talks have made limited progress so far, with both sides refusing to budge on key issues such as fishing rights and the Northern Irish border.

Whales face threat

A report released last week by the International Union for Conservation of Nature (IUCN) said that four species of whales are facing extinction due to overfishing and habitat loss.

The report highlighted the Vaquita, the world’s smallest species of whale, which is on the brink of extinction due to the illegal trade in its meat.

The Vaquita is a small, cute-looking whale that lives in the Gulf of California off the coast of Mexico.

The IUCN said that the Vaquita population has declined by more than 95% since the 1990s due to overfishing.

The report called on countries to take urgent action to protect the Vaquita and other whale species.

Trump’s Covid-19 diagnosis rocks White House, poll campaign

President Donald Trump’s Covid-19 diagnosis has cast doubt on his ability to campaign for re-election.

Trump tested positive for the virus on October 2 and was admitted to a hospital for treatment.

The news has led to questions about the impact of the virus on Trump’s ability to win the election.

A new poll conducted by the Associated Press showed that Trump’s approval rating has fallen to 45%, down from 53% in September.

The poll also found that more than half of Americans believe that Trump is lying about his COVID-19 diagnosis.

Migrant crisis

A record 45,900 migrants crossed the border into Spain last month, according to the Spanish government.

The influx of migrants has put pressure on the Spanish government to find a solution to the crisis.

The government has vowed to increase border controls and to push back migrants who try to enter the country.

The crisis has also put pressure on the European Union to take action.

The EU has announced plans to send 9,000 soldiers to the Spanish border to help with the migrant crisis.

The soldiers will be deployed to help with border controls and to assist with the prevention of illegal entry into Spain.

The soldiers will also be tasked with setting up temporary detention centers to hold migrants.

The EU has also promised to increase funding for the Spanish government to help with the migrant crisis.

The funding will be used to build new detention centers and to improve border controls.

The funding will also be used to increase the number of border patrol officers and to purchase new equipment for border security.

TV news networks to reap ad windfall from US poll chaos

Television news networks will benefit from a 15 percent premium that may not go away. New and used TV sets are selling out, giving rise to a late summer rush of late-night buyers and driving up ad rates. With low sporting events and a captive audience due to the Covid-19 pandemic, there are mountains of ad inventory on prime-time networks that cable and satellite companies have bought that debut and election night ad.

At least two networks, Fox Corp’s Fox News and Comcast Corp’s NBC, are expecting or already seeing high demand for the following November’s election night. Fox News is also offering financial incentives for its companies if election results are not in after that first debate.

Determining election returns is not simple. The United States could take some time after voting ends on Election Day due to a surge in mail-in ballots and early voting, in contrast to the Republican President Donald Trump and Democratic challenger Joe Biden.

Jeff Colburn, an election-management consultant at The Points Group, said the cable network is seeing a significant increase in both average unit rate as well as average demand. As of Aug. 30 for election night coverage.

A 30-second spot during the first presidential debates this fall could cost as much as $200,000, depending on the network and channel. The average cost for a 30-second spot on TV’s most-viewed prime-time cable networks, according to Standard Media Index.

Three weeks before the first presidential debate, Fox News was the highest-rated network in all of television for prime-time viewers, according to Nielsen.

In July, August and September, Fox News was the highest-rated network in all of television for prime-time viewers, according to Nielsen.

But with election coverage, you’re going to be reaching people who were previously only going to watch the network.

Catherine Walker, chief investment officer at RBC, added that the networks have attracted new viewers who were previously not interested in advertising during this period. “You’re going to be reaching those people who are watching and it’s more concentrated.”

TV news has already seen a viewership spike this year, with NBC, Fox News, ABC, CBS and CNN seeing a 9.8 percent increase in viewership during the month of July, August and September.
