UNHCR receives US$2 million from Qatar Charity for Yemen’s displaced families

UNHCR, the UN Refugee Agency, has received a significant and timely donation of US $2 million from Qatar Charity (QC) to support vulnerable internally displaced families in Yemen. As the country is in need of humanitarian assistance, the money will go towards supporting programmes that will help provide lifesaving aid such as water, shelter and healthcare to those most in need.

QC’s donation could not have come at a more significant time. As a humanitarian catastrophe unfolds in Yemen and millions lose their homes to escape devastating conflict, a lack of funding amid the current COVID-19 outbreak has threatened the suspension of vital humanitarian relief programmes run by UNHCR in the country. The suspension of UNHCR programmes due to a lack of funding would mean that many families will be left unsupported and not able to provide for themselves or their own family’s basic needs.

Speaking about the challenging situation in Yemen, Khaled Khalifa, Senior Advisor and Representative to the Gulf Cooperation Council Countries at UNHCR said, “At UNHCR, we are committed to making a difference in the lives of the displaced families in Yemen. Witnessing the disruption that is happening there has encouraged us to get involved and do all we can to support the cause. The people of Yemen are currently at the grip of a calamity, a flooding season and war, and have been faced with so many obstacles in the midst of unimaginable times. We must do all we can to provide much-needed life-saving aid for them. We are pleased that this funding will go towards helping them and have an impact.”

With 22.2 million Yemenis affected and in need of aid, there is a lot more work to be done. Without an urgent need for support, millions of Yemenis will be left without assistance and even more vulnerable to the terrifying threat of COVID-19.

On World Refugee Day
Qatar Charity: Humanitarian interventions and continuous partnerships for refugees

Qatar Charity (QC) affirmed its continued keenness to ensure a dignified life for refugees throughout the world, and to work on raising their incomes by implementing projects and initiatives through its field offices or in cooperation with partners like international and local organizations.

The organization comes on the occasion of World Refugee Day, which is observed June 20 each year to raise awareness of refugees’ needs.

Qatar Charity’s relief and humanitarian intervention included providing water aid and basic assistance in the fields of food, shelter, health, education, water, and social cohesion.

These projects benefited refugees and internally displaced people from several countries including Syria, Yemen, Iraq, Myanmar, and Somalia, in addition to Rohingya refugees.

Achievements

The total cost of the projects implemented by Qatar Charity for refugees and the displaced from January 2019 to June 15, 2020 is nearly 881 million Qatari riyals, benefiting 8,240,585 people.

From 2019 to date, Qatar Charity has signed 16 agreements on refugee protection with several international organizations.

International Partnerships

From 2019 to date, Qatar Charity has signed 16 agreements on refugee protection with several international organizations, namely the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), the International Organization for Migration (IOM), and UNICEF and the United Nations Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA). The affected of many countries such as Yemen, Bangladesh, and Syria, have benefited from these agreements.

It is worth mentioning that Qatar Charity is linked to a four-year strategic cooperation agreement signed with UNHCR in Geneva in 2017, which aims at providing financial resources for refugee relief projects, and jointly funding them by both parties, with at least 3 million dollars annually.

These agreements have targeted several areas such as health care, water, education, food, and livelihoods.

Syria

Syria received the largest portion of assistance provided by Qatar Charity during this period due to the tragic situation of the displaced and Syrian refugees. This assistance amounted to more than 34 million Qatari riyals and benefited nearly 2.8 million people.

From 2019 to date, Qatar Charity has signed 16 agreements on refugee protection with several international organizations.

Fighting COVID-19

Qatar Charity (QC), since the outbreak of the coronavirus (COVID-19) epidemic, signed various cooperation agreements with several international organizations to contribute to the global efforts to limit the spread of the virus and provide emergency assistance to those affected, including refugees.

Qatar Charity, in cooperation with UNHCR, began providing emergency assistance to Syrian refugees throughout Lebanon in response to the humanitarian needs resulting from the spread of the coronavirus epidemic, as part of the $1.5 million signed between two parties.

Under the cooperation with the United Nations Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA), Qatar Charity has started to establish 14 community-based isolation units in northern Syria to benefit 2,600 people of camps at a total cost of US $6.6 million.

Qatar Charity worked with UNICEF to maintain access to safe drinking water and sanitation services for the benefit of Syrian refugees in Jordan. The value of the contribution amounted to one million US dollars, in addition to signing other agreements.

Last year, Qatar Charity launched the “For Humanity” initiative in cooperation with the UNHCR to provide aid to more than 300,000 refugees from Yemen, Iraq, Somalia, and Syria, in addition to Rohingya refugees in Bangladesh.

The “For Humanity (4H)” is the largest humanitarian relief initiative to provide emergency assistance to vulnerable refugees across the globe and ensure they are safe, healthy and well-fed.

UNICEF

UNICEF is an example of the work that can be done in collaboration with organizations that are driven to take action and cause valuable change.

Discussing the donation provided to UNHCR, Yousef Al Kuwari, CEO of Qatar Charity said: “We are honoured to provide UNHCR with this donation so they can continue the vital work they are doing in Yemen. Witnessing the disruption that is happening there has encouraged us to get involved and do all we can to support the cause. The people of Yemen are currently at the grip of a calamity, a flooding season and war, and have been faced with so many obstacles in the midst of unimaginable times. The African refugees and migrants trapped inside Yemen's war

The numbers

ESCAP reported an estimated 400,000 refugees and migrants in Yemen in September 2018. Of these, an estimated 100,000 were in Sana'a Governorate, 150,000 in Aden Governorate, and 150,000 in the southern governorates. Yemen has been divided into two entities: the internationally recognized government of President Abdrabbuh Mansur Hadi and the separatist Houthi-led government. The war has claimed thousands of lives and displaced millions of people. The conflict has also caused a humanitarian crisis, with millions of people facing food and water shortages. The war has also led to a surge in infections of the novel coronavirus (Covid-19) that has resulted in over 100,000 confirmed cases and more than 2,100 deaths. The conflict has also intensified due to the involvement of regional and international actors, including Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates, and Iran.

Beijing tests food couriers as coronavirus checks widen

Officials are considering taking swab samples of food delivery workers across the city of Beijing to monitor any remaining coronavirus infections linked to a food wholesale market linked to a previous peak number in coronavirus cases.

This month that had allowed for high levels of travel and a return to normal activity. The state said it will also defer plans to allow large-scale distribution of goods to the South, the official KCNA said.

The plots of forces that advocate independence for Hong Kong and Taiwan are also under threat. More importantly, it is absolutely necessary to strengthen the local food safety of low-risk areas. (He put the hand tattoo on his hand). Turkey’s lost ground in coronavirus fight

Residents of Istanbul, Turkey, protest outside a slaughterhouse on Friday after police arrested a man for experimenting with human body parts.

Turkey is a major supplier of fresh meat for Europe, and its outbreak has caused concerns about food safety and the risk of new variants.

The protest comes as European countries are facing increased pressure to control the spread of the virus.

A week ago, Turkey’s top security official, Yalcin Akdogan, warned that the country should prepare for a possible third wave of infections.

Meanwhile, the ECDC (European Centre for Disease Prevention and Control) has warned that Turkey is at risk of becoming a new epicentre of the virus.

The situation in Turkey is concerning, especially given the government’s recent decision to relax restrictions and allow large gatherings.

In addition to the protests, there have been reports of new infections in several parts of the country.

Health officials are urging citizens to continue following preventive measures, such as wearing masks and maintaining social distancing.

The situation in Turkey is closely monitored by the international community, and it is likely to have significant implications for the region and beyond.

Budweiser plans to open a new brewery near Brussels. The move is in line with the Belgian government's efforts to encourage more breweries in the country, which has some of the highest beer consumption rates in Europe. The new brewery will create around 100 jobs and will produce around 50,000 hectoliters of beer per year. The company said it was committed to sustainability and would use renewable energy sources for its operations. However, the move has also raised concerns among local craft beer makers who fear it could lead to a decrease in the availability of their products. In a statement, Budweiser said it was looking forward to working with the local community to ensure a smooth transition.
